What's important to me...

- Portraying the organization in a professional light and ensuring that ARC Scotland is well respected within the Health and Social Care Sector.
- Leaving work at night knowing I have completed all urgent tasks and feeling I have achieved something worthwhile.
- Taking time to listen to any problems colleagues may have.
- I love going on holiday to new places.
- The safety and wellbeing of animals and wildlife.
- A sense of humour, a good laugh is better than any medicine.
- Having quality time with my grandchildren and family.
- Sitting in the garden on a lovely sunny day with a glass of wine and winding down.

What people like and admire about me...

I am honest and trustworthy. Conscientious and self motivation is demonstrated throughout all areas of my work. Always flexible and willing to go the extra mile. Wealth of knowledge. I am a good listener and supportive of what others have to say. No enquiry or query goes unanswered. I am a friendly and approachable member of the team.

How best to support me...

- Explain things to me in simple terms, I may have to ask for more guidance, please be patient.
- Don't think I am not interested or being anti social if I don't answer something straightaway. I like to think things through.
- Provide me with regular updates of developments and forthcoming events in order that I can respond and prepare accordingly.
- Tell me if you are not happy with something I have said or done.
- I don't need praise but I like reassurance.
